

Personal Data Consent Form

As outlined in our Privacy Notice and Terms of Business, in the provision of services to you, we will obtain and store your personal data. This information we hold on you is confidential and will not be used for any purpose other than in connection with the provision of services to you. Information of a confidential nature will be treated as such provided that such information is not already in the public domain.

Special Categories Data ("Sensitive Data")

Sensitive data is subject to explicit consent. There are certain categories of data which are sensitive by nature. The categories include but not limited to: health, race, religion and ethnic origin. We may collect and process sensitive data in the provision of services to you.

We may disclose information with third parties, but only in the following circumstances:

- a) where required by law or if requested by any regulatory authority or exchange having control or jurisdiction over us (or any associate);
- b) to investigate or prevent fraud or other illegal activity;
- c) in connection with the provision of services to you by us;
- d) for purposes ancillary to the provision of the services or the administration of your account, including, without limitation, for the purposes of credit enquiries or assessments or the verification of your identity and/or any other actions or enquiries we may be obliged to undertake pursuant to our obligations under applicable anti-money laundering legislation or regulations;
- e) if it is in the public interest to disclose such information; or
- f) at your request or with your consent, subject to the proviso that we may disclose your information to certain permitted third parties, such as members of our own group and our professional advisers who are bound by confidentiality codes.
